

The election is over.
Now what?

If you are a progressive college activist who wants to shape the direction of our country, DMI Scholars is for you.

DMI Scholars is a “Public Policy 101,” preparing college students from diverse communities to successfully enter the public policy world.

The progressive movement now needs a diverse, talented group of activists to view public policy as a vehicle for their activism.

The Drum Major Institute for Public Policy (DMI) is a think tank staffed by young progressives who want to drive public policy, not just lament its failures.
We created DMI Scholars to build a farm team of Chiefs of Staff, Issues Directors, and Legislative Analysts advancing a progressive agenda for our nation.

If you want to learn how to make an impact on the policies that impact you, become a DMI Scholar.

Our first Summer Institute training for DMI Scholars will be in New York City from July 29–August 12, 2007.
And if you complete our intensive training successfully, we will help you explore careers in this field through internships and networking opportunities.

All expenses are covered.
Applications accepted on a rolling basis
December 8, 2006–
January 17, 2007.
